

Israel's Messiah/Past and Future

Yochana bat Tzion Untamo

O beloved Israel, listen and hear,
Messiah YESHUAH calls, will you give him ear?
The atonement for all of your sin,
He's awaiting your hearts to yearn for Him.

In Egypt plagues and darkness filled the land,
YESHUAH was with you, both the light and the lamb.
The sacrifice, cared for first then killed,
The redemption blood had to be spilled.

On that night, blood the door did cover,
So that the Destroyer would pass over.
Jacob's first born survived the night,
And redeemed, Israel began their flight.

He brought Israel out from Pharaoh's hold,
No more slavery or bricks to mold.
Out of Egypt, the people fled,
In haste, no time to raise the bread.

Through the desert they would come,
Israel, led by the Son.
Moshe the prophet, the shepherd, priest,
Most humble of men, himself the least.

Moshe led them to the sea,
Close behind was Pharaoh's army.
Our God saves, YESHUAH is He!
ADONAI's right arm, He parted the sea!

All Israel crossed upon dry land,
Not so for the enemy close at hand.
Egypt lost that battle in the sea,
YESHUAH destroyed Pharaoh's army!

The manna He gave
to hungry people in strife,
YESHUAH your Savior,
Is the Bread of Life!

Water from the Rock
Followed Israel in dry ground.
YESHUAH is the Rock
Where living waters are found!

On Mt. Sinai God spoke His decrees,
Only Moshe was allowed to see.
YESHUAH and he face to face,
The living Torah, His Law, His grace.

Thunder and lightning made the people affright.
They waited for Moshe day and night.
After forty days, the prophet came down,
Tablets in hand, the law of renown.

But the people had sinned,
Fashioning a calf of gold,
To replace their God,
The Ancient One of old.

Moshe was angry, the tablets he broke.
Israel forgot all the words God had spoke!
In melting their earrings and Egyptian gold bands,
They had forged an idol with the work of their hands!

Moshe the leader now was their priest.
He fasted and prayed for their relief.
That God would relent and keep them alive,
Forgiveness and mercy, Moshe prayed for the tribes.

New tablets of stone
God wrote again with His hand,
Ten Words for the Ark
That would go into the land.

The wilderness wanderings,
Forty years in flight,
The covenant, the promise,
Now their land was in sight!

But Moshe their leader could not go in.
He struck the Rock; that was a sin.
The Promised Land he was denied,
But the Father's mercy, let him see with his eyes.

The land that Israel soon would possess,
A covenant promise from the Father's goodness.
A land of plenty, milk and honey,
For a people as numerous as the sands of the sea.

The Land had to be conquered,
There were battles to wage.
The Spirit from Moshe
To Joshua He gave.

Fear not, be strong
Then YESHUAH did appear!
To lead Israel's army along,
Oh Israel, do not fear!

Redeemer, Savior, ADONAI's boast!
YESHUAH, Commander of the Lord's Host!
Will lead Israel in battle and fight to win.
Against all odds, their faith will be in Him!

Only He, will defeat their foes,
And remove all of Israel's woes.
He is waiting, ready to fight.
To bring Israel out of its plight.

His sword is drawn, ready to pounce!
YESHUAH is King, ADONAI will announce!
He'll bring judgment and justice to all nations
To Israel's enemies will come conflagration.

O Israel just wait and see,
Your Messiah, YESHUAH Ben David,
Will respond to your future cry and plea,
Returning with justice on His white steed!

Vengeance is mine, saith the LORD,
And for Israel my first born?
Messiah YESHUAH, my mighty right arm,
Will save you all from the enemy's harm.

O beloved Israel ... in the great day of fear,
You will surely listen and hear,
When all seems lost you will cry
Barukh haBah b'SHEM ADONAI

O Israel my first born son,
This is why these battles are won-
You are not so perfect, a remnant not great,
But I have loved you forever for My Name's sake.
